

LEGISLATURE IS IN FINAL RUSH

Liquor Legislation Is Finished; Other Bills To Be Hurried Through.

Austin, Texas, March 18.—The special session of the Texas legislature today entered upon its final week's work. Legislation is to be under a rush this week in an effort to clear the calendar before the session closes by limitation.

To Take Up Other Recommendations. Now that the legislature has practically disposed of all liquor legislation, the remainder of the present session will be devoted to the numerous other measures submitted and yet to be presented by the governor. Little progress has been made with the measures dealing with the recommendations of the Legislative Investigation committee, but it was said today attention is to be paid now to these propositions.

Thompson's Bill on Third Reading. The house passed to third reading the bill by Representative E. E. Thompson, which would prohibit any person from assisting in the preparation of his ballot, unless the voter is over 21 years of age and physically disabled. Under this measure the voter must also be able to read and write the English language. An amendment was adopted to the bill in the house permitting a person who has been a citizen of the United States for 10 years to vote, though he cannot meet the other requirements. Mr. Thompson, during the consideration of the bill, explained that its purpose was not to keep people from voting, but to prevent them from being voted.

Governor Signs El Paso Court Bill, Now Effective

Austin, Tex., March 18.—Gov. W. P. Hobby today signed the bill passed during the present session, giving concurrent jurisdiction to the county court of El Paso with the county court at law of El Paso county, in the trial of misdemeanor cases. At this bill carried the emergency clause, the act is now in force and effect.

Representative H. E. Thompson, of El Paso, said this new law will relieve the congested condition of the county court at law.

STATE BANKS MAY GET PART OF THE DROUTH RELIEF FUND

Austin, Texas, March 18.—An effort is to be made to have the federal government deposit part of the $5,000,000 for the relief of the drouth stricken section of west Texas in state banks as well as in national banks, according to a letter received today by Governor W. P. Hobby from Under Sec. W. F. Ramsey, at Dallas, director of the federal reserve bank at Dallas.

When it was announced by secretary of the treasury McAdoo that $5,000,000 was to be deposited in the national banks, the state banks were apparently eliminated. Director Ramsey stated in his letter that he had secured McAdoo's agreement to modify his order so as to include state banks that are members of the federal reserve system.

Hudspeth Is Soloist At Booze's Fall

El Paso Senator Sings Swan Song When the Texas Solons Pass Law.

Newspaper reports from Austin, Texas, tell of the "swan song of anti-liquor" sung by Senator Claude B. Hudspeth, of El Paso, last week in the Texas senate, when the statewide prohibition bill was under discussion in that body.

The reports said that nothing like the scene incident to the action on the statewide bill had been witnessed in the senate chamber since the morning of the session of the 12th legislature at the beginning of 1911. Mr. Hudspeth, member of the senate for 11 years and senatorial "whip" of the "anti" for ten years, made the most magnetic speech of his career. The report said, "an address of pleading, invective and good humor."

He and anti members of the senate debated senator Hudspeth's progress with a barrage of questions. Mr. Hudspeth is said to have denounced statutory prohibition for ever-lasting under the sun that it should not be, and with mock resignation submitted himself for membership in the "Drunken Old Club" of anti prohibition politics that the majority of the legislature had been able to organize by sheer force of numbers, he said.

He closed his attack on the bill.

Says Sheepmen Of This Section Stand Losses

They Are Not Getting Rich, Says Otero at Meeting In New Mexico.

Albuquerque, N. M., March 18.—The annual convention of the New Mexico Wool Growers association opened here this morning for a session of two days.

The feature of the opening session was the annual address of the president, Edward M. Otero, of Los Lunas. "It is generally believed that the sheepmen are piling up big fortunes," he said, "but gentlemen, I want to tell you that when you go into your books carefully and figure out the enormous expenses that we are under, figuring out the enormous interest that we have to pay on the purchase of land, and the cost of the wool, and the cost of the feed, and the cost of the labor, and the cost of the transportation, you will find that we are not getting rich, and that we are standing losses."

The report said, by declaring it an outrage to the "fragments of the Texas constitution that is left to us," and with a verbal picture of the old man from El Paso and the old man from Albuquerque returning to all the glory of the bone dry senates of the future.

On the American sectors at Toul and Lunenburg there has been no change in the situation. American patrol parties are still visiting the enemy lines and returning with valuable information. On the Toul front the American artillery fire has been very heavy. The gunners shelling bullets, troops and works over an area approximately six miles wide and two miles deep. East of Lunenburg also the artillery bombardment has been heavy.

THE WAR AT A GLANCE

French and German troops have been engaged in heavy fighting on both sides of the Meuse in the Toul sector. The river the French have gained the enemy positions on a front of about 140 yards to a depth of 800 yards, while east of the river the Germans were unsuccessful in driving attacks on a six mile front.

Sunday the Germans sent heavy forces against the French positions at Semouilly, north of the Bois de Caillieres, and near Reims. They entered the French line at various points. Violent French artillery fire inflicted heavy casualties on the attackers and they were unable to hold the trenches they had gained. The front east of the Meuse has been the scene of much violent artillery fire during the last month.

The French pressed west of the river was made at Malancourt, west of Verdun. At the "Chapoy Wood" incident, which Malancourt, the French late Friday penetrated German trenches on a front of 100 meters to a depth of 200 meters. After destroying the positions, the French returned with 50 prisoners and seven machine guns. East of the river, in the Champagne, German troops gained momentarily at Vauclusecourt, but suffered heavily under a French counter attack, which restored the situation.

British Front More Quiet.—Fighting activity on the British front has died down somewhat, and the Germans for the moment at least have given up their strategy of "bite and tear" attacks. The artillery fire here and

22 AIRPLANES SHOT DOWN

BY GERMANS YESTERDAY. Berlin, Germany, March 18.—Twenty-two aircraft were brought down by the Germans yesterday on the Franco-Belgian front, army headquarters announced today.

Having occupied Odessa and Nikolaev, important naval and grain ports, the Germans in southern Russia, continue their advance northward from the Black sea toward Kherson, an important commercial center and capital of the province of the same name. The all-Russian congress of soviets has declared Moscow to be the Russian capital and it is said that all government and military effects have been removed from Petrograd. The Bolshevik leaders, although they agreed and obtained ratification of the German peace treaty, are said to have little hope that the treaty will bring peace and are calling upon the local soviets to form military organizations with which to combat the Germans should their invasion continue further into the heart of Russia.

THE PRICE INTERESTING COMMITTEE will hold its next regular meeting Thursday at 2 p. m. at the chamber of commerce.

FOOD LESSONS FREE OF CHARGE

Official School at Bailey Kitchens Saturday Under Miss Helen Swift.

At the mass meeting of the housewives of El Paso and surrounding country at the Merchants school house, Saturday afternoon, district food administrator Charles N. Bassett announced that the government war food school would be thrown open absolutely free of charge to all the women of the community. It was also announced that owing to the great number wishing to take the war food courses the school would be removed to the Bailey school house, where every Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock housewives would receive instruction.

The College of the City of El Paso has been designated as the instruction center for this part of the southwest by the food administration headquarters at Washington and is to cooperate with district food administrator Charles N. Bassett in instructing the housewives.

Miss Swift is Director. In introducing Helen Hubbard Swift, who will act as the food school, chancellor H. M. Colvin said: "The course of study is furnished by the food administration and by the use of Miss Swift will make the line foods taste commonplace beside the new foods made from substitute flour. Sixty students have been arranged at the Bailey school house and very modern laboratory convenience necessary."

Miss Swift briefly outlined the course which begins Saturday at 3 o'clock and told the housewives what the government expected from them. Bassett Appeals to Women.

Mr. Bassett appealed to the consumers were not doing their full duties, as well as the merchants but he thought they would do them when they better understood them. It part he said: "I can do nothing without you women. I depend upon you. I have dropped my business and am devoting day and night to this cause, but I am only one man and I know you will see me through and put El Paso on the war map as a center of war winning patriotism."

GIVES FULL LINE OF FLOURS TO BE USED AS SUBSTITUTES

Further instructions received by district food administrator Charles N. Bassett relative to the use of substitutes for regular consumers, specify that the substitutes, of which an equal quantity must be sold with each purchase of wheat flour, are as follows: Corn starch, corn starch, barley flour, rice flour, soybean flour, sweet buckwheat flour, potato flour, sweet potato flour, soybean flour, farina, flour and meal. The following are not classed as substitutes: Prepared or scallied breakfast foods, pancake flour and rye flour.

Housewives are requested to use their flour for bread purposes only, and to make use of substitutes in making biscuits, cakes, pies, etc., and the flour is considered by the administration as luxuries and the housewife should consider it a patriotic duty to refrain from making or consuming same while the present situation exists.

GERMAN PRISONERS AID BOLSHIEVIK IN SIBERIA

March 18.—Belgian German prisoners are cooperating with the Bolsheviks in Siberia in the campaign against the forces of Gen. Semenov, leader of the non-Bolshevik faction. Unhindered soldiers of Gen. Semenov's command say that in a battle of March 1 they were fired upon by former German prisoners attached to the Bolshevik forces. It is estimated that 500 German troops took part in the fighting.

One wounded soldier claims that Gen. Semenov's troops bayoneted the armed Germans in hand to hand combat.

RUSSIAN TROOPS FIGHT AS THE GERMANS ADVANCE

London, Eng., March 18.—German troops have occupied Bakhmetov and Konyok in the province of Tchernov, about 100 miles southwest of Moscow, but were forced to retire from Bakhmetov (the province of Tchernov) toward the main base, according to Russian dispatches received here. German troops are moving on Votovo, and the Bolsheviks are retreating to the province of the same name.

RUSS AMBASSADOR DENOUNCES HIS COUNTRY'S PEACE TERMS

Washington, D. C., March 18.—Russia's acceptance of the German peace terms was denounced here today by Boris Bakmetov, the Russian ambassador who last November formally repudiated the Bolshevik government. The conditions imposed by Germany, the ambassador declared, threaten the existence and independence of the country. The embassy, he declared, will continue to advocate cooperation with the allies in the war on Germany.

Washing Won't Rid Head Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and itching of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffier, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

THE KING OF ENGLAND Adheres To Food Rule

London, Eng., March 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) King George and Queen Mary were among the first in England, as was Mrs. Woodrow Wilson in the United States, to make their household conform to the rigorous rationing system of a food minister or administrator. Like the White House at Washington, the royal family and staff at Buckingham palace have been placed on the list suggested by the food minister to conserve the nation's food supply in England, Lord Rhodes.

From the early days of the "ministry of food," the king has insisted that every suggestion for self-denial, which has been put before the people of the country must be loyally observed throughout the royal household.

Sir Derek Kenel, master of the household, said in an interview this week that the king has been very strict in the early days of the "ministry of food," the king has insisted that every suggestion for self-denial, which has been put before the people of the country must be loyally observed throughout the royal household.

"We are all in line here with the rationing, and I am saying no more what is ordered on each occasion when I tell you that I never know any people as thoroughly conscientious as the royal household in observing the rationing rules."

"The royal household is a large and varying one. Its changing character makes it difficult in the rationing, but if any error is made in the direction of it is in the direction of less rather than more economy."

"Quite often recently the royal household has been empty of such necessities as butter, margarine, cream, etc. The king and queen have recently been in the kitchen with the duty of self-denial in food and drink. The king in the first days of the war was ordered to eat 'total abstinence' from beverages, and that placed him in a good today over the whole household."

"The king's attitude is always to 'self-denial' in food. A lion's share of the food is reserved for the king and queen.
